Precious metals, oils & grains prices are positive for the current account, Rand, Inflation and interest rates.

The South African economy has continued with its low 1.1% growth in 2025. However, the current estimates for 2026 and 2027 of 1.2% and 1.5% respectively may be too low, due to 1) the continued rollout of structural reforms and its benefits of expanding bulk capacity, 2) coinciding with a cyclical recovery, based on a lower inflation, supporting lower interest rates and 3) reinforced by a very favorable commodity price mix, with very strong precious metals (exports) and weaker soft commodities (imports), like oil and grains resulting in a strong Rand exchange rate. These factors plus the improved financial oversight, with South Africa removed from the FATF Grey List has resulted in the first country rating upgrade in a decade. This positive South African macro economic situation is reinforced by a greater focus by global investors to diversify into stronger growth and lower risk emerging markets which could set the scene for the South African economy to reach growth rates of 3-5%, previously experienced in the 2000-2010 period.

The Risks to this Scenario are 1) significant flare up in Geopolitics, 2) negative impact of tariffs on industries like automotive, 3) reversal of the favorable commodity pricing, 4) the end of reforms resulting in further infrastructure supply constraints and high pricing and 5) the South African political environment becoming more unstable and a continued decline at Local Government. 2026, has the potential to be a defining year with good growth, a positive macro-economic environment with stable inflation and lower interest rates, further rating upgrades and a return of international portfolio investors resulting in significant foreign inflows. This will be good for the economy, financial markets and all South Africans.

South African Equities performed well in 2025, supported by relatively low valuations with PE's of 14.6 and strong earnings growth of 31.7%. The earnings momentum should continue as, 1) strong gold and platinum prices support mining shares, 2) the early benefits of capex spent on efficiency and resilience improving profit margins, 3) we would expect expansion capex to rise as confidence improves, 4) lower cost of capital due to declining interest rates and 5) higher volumes and lower cost as bulk infrastructure improves. Since 2015 foreign investors have sold R2.7tn of SA Equities and Bonds. As the SA macro environment improves, with further ratings upgrades, foreign investors will return with positive inflows as South Africa is "Discovered". The Oasis portfolios performed well over the last 12 months, being well diversified. The portfolios are made up of high-quality stocks, good leadership, trading at significant discounts to the market, robust free cash flow and strong balance sheets providing relative downside protection. The portfolio is well positioned to add long-term value

SA listed Reits had a good performance in 2025, with a 30.6% total rate of return. With little new supply, vacancies have reduced. The industrial, retail and coastal markets are improving the most. Reits also benefitted from the narrowing of the discount to Net Asset Value. SA property will be a primary beneficiary of the investment in bulk and municipal infrastructure and the improving SA macroeconomic fundamentals and lower interest rates. The Cape Town property market, with very strong demand and supply fundamentals has driven up rentals to rates supporting new development, with vacant land being the key constraint.

The Oasis Crescent Property Fund has continued to perform well, benefiting from a portfolio of high-quality Reits, with positive demand and supply fundamentals in secular growth sectors, superior balance sheets and excellent management. All its properties barring one, are in the Cape Town metropole with strong fundamentals, a shortage of land and the best functioning municipality in the country. The fund is investigating a number of growth opportunities within its existing portfolio in Cape Town and has started the process to build a major new modern logistics warehouse, with further development approvals in 2026. The share trades at a significant discount to NAV. The Oasis Crescent Property Fund is well positioned to add value over the long term.

SA bonds had a good year. SA 10 year yields started 2025 at 10.33%, ending the year at 8.2%. The SA 10 year bond had Rand returns of 25.4% and $ returns of 40.8% as the R:$ strengthened and longer dated Bonds had better returns due to the benefit of higher duration as interest rates reduced in 2025. On the other extreme was Japan with its yields increasing, with 10 year bonds YTM rising from 1.1% to 2.1% delivering returns of -6.4% and -6.1% in Yen and $, with 30 year bonds doing much worse with Yen returns of -18.7% as maturity spreads increased and the impact of rising rates on duration.

Global central banks have been lowering policy rates with some like the EU close to a bottom. Real rates vary with -2.4% in Japan, 0.05% in the EU, 1.05% in the USA, 2.3% in China and 3.25% in South Africa. Inflationary expectations are rising in the USA and Europe and declining in Emerging Markets. SA inflation is currently at 3.5%, above the SARB Target rate of 3%, but inflation is expected to move to target range in the short term due to, infrastructure supply increasing, the stronger Rand impact on import prices, lower grain prices, the end of the foot and mouth disease increases the supply of red meat and lower fuel prices. The SARB has cut interest rates by 150 bps and it is expected to cut by another 50-75 bps by the end of the cycle as confidence grows in the supply side of the economy.

The Oasis Crescent Income Fund is well-diversified by geography, sector and instrument, focused on quality income investments. The Fund has done well and is well positioned for these volatile conditions.
